EPSY 220: Career Theory and Practice

Had to drop a class?
Undecided about your major?
Unsure about graduate or professional school?
Wondering what you’ll do after college?
Worried you’ll never find a job?

Let science help!!

Registration is now open for 8-week sections of EPSY 220, a course that helps students use the science of vocational psychology to identify a major or career of interest and prepare to enter the job force. Find out more by scanning the QR Code, visiting www.tinyurl.com/EPSY220, or contacting the course coordinator, Chris Murdock, at cmurdoc2@illinois.edu.
